Mrs. Winthrop Coffin, a guest at Barron Hall, gave a luncheon Tuesday at the Whistling Kettle for Miss Constance Holt, sister of President Hamilton Holt, who was her classmate at Vassar. Other Vassar women attending were Miss Louella Kountz, Mrs. Mabel Horst Kirk, Mrs. B. D. Holden, Mrs. William F. Yust and Mrs. Charles C. Burleigh.

Mrs. Edward S. Fownes of Maitland is entertaining at her estate, her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Fownes Wadsworth and daughter Caroline; Mrs. Margaret Arensburg and Miss Vivian Heck, all of Pittsburgh, Pa. and Pinehurst, N. C. Mr. Hugh Davis, of Sewickley, Pa., who has been a guest for two weeks left for the North yesterday.

Mrs. Charles Davis and daughter and niece of Springfield, Mass. stopped this week enroute to Sarasota, up the east coast and down the west, and visited their friends Mrs. Mary Hazen Arnold and Mrs. Edward W. Hazen of Phelps Avenue.

Senor Madariaga, distinguished Spanish statesman and Mr. Arthur Sweetser, recipient of an honorary degree at Rollins last week, were house guests of Dr. and Mrs. John Palmer Gavit.

Dr. and Mrs. Fielding Lewis Taylor gave a dinner and birthday party Monday evening at their home on Osceola Avenue for Mrs. Fred Atherton, of Washington, who is at the Alabama. Those attending were President Holt, his sister, Miss Constance Holt, Mrs. Josephine Daskam Bacon, Mrs. Philip T. Stillman, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Trowbridge, Sr., Dr. George Zug and Dr. E. R. A. Seligman.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Balcom, of Cincinnati arrived Thursday to visit the latter's grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hackney for several days. Mrs. Balcom is the former Marguerite Hackney who spent several seasons here before her marriage last year and who is being greeted by her many friends.

Mrs. Reinhard Siedenburg has as her guest at Hiawatha Grove, Maitland, Mrs. Ruth Quackenbusch of Greenwich, Conn. Mrs. Siedenburg's daughter, Mrs. Norman Into left Thursday for her home in Chicago after visiting the past two weeks.

Mrs. J. S. Capen has returned from a three week's trip north and will be at the Lincoln Apartments until April.

Knowles Memorial Chapel and the Annie Russell Theatre at Rollins College, the cultural center of Winter Park, where many of the season's outstanding events are given. At the Chapel the Bach Festival was held on Thursday and Friday. Next week a production of Aristophanes' comedy "Peace" will be given.

OLD GREEK COMEDY AT ANNIE RUSSELL THEATRE

Baron Paul d'Estournelles de Constant will produce his free adaptation of Aristophanes' comedy, "Irene, or The Peace", Friday and Saturday evenings, March 11 and 12, in the Annie Russell Theatre as the fifth attraction in the Annie Russell Series. This brilliant comedy will replace the Paris Revue which was originally scheduled for the Series.

Professor d'Estournelles has not made a literal translation of the comedy, it is announced, but has remained faithful to the spirit of the play in his free adaptation. He has chosen to stage it in such a manner that it might be played anytime and in any place where the sun shines brightly and with warmth. With this in mind, the

CIVIC LUNCHEON AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

On Wednesday, March 9, at 1 o'clock, the Civic Luncheon will be held at the Club House. Mrs. C. Fred Ward will preside. The speaker will be Dr. J. S. Young, for many years a professor in the history department of the University of Minnesota. Dr. Young is at present one of the popular teachers at Rollins and will present his subject (International-Cooperation) with a great deal of human interest.

On Friday, March 11, at 3 o'clock, Mrs. H. T. Kitson, Chairman of the Drama department, presents one of the most delightful short comedies of the American theatre, Susan Glaspell's SUPPRESSED DESIRES. The Club looks forward with special pleasure to these drama afternoons.

POETRY SOCIETY MEETS AT MARTIN HOME

Members and guests of the Poetry Society of Florida met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Martin on Saturday afternoon, February 26 when Dr. Evelyn Newman gave an inspiring talk on "The Case for Poetic Drama in Recent Years". Rose Mills Powers presided in the absence of Jessie Rittenhouse Scollard in California. Quoting Aristotle's definition of great tragedy as a catharsis of the soul, Dr. Newman finds the case for poetic drama well justified today in the threatening chaos in world affairs. She discussed briefly the great poetic tragedies of all time from Sophocles' "Antigone" and Shakespeare's "King Lear", the dramatic poems of Byron, Shelley and Browning, the realistic dramas of Ibsen and Shaw, the work of the Irish Synge and Yeats to the post-war period of today with its revival of interest in poetic drama.

Praising the work of the English actors, Gielgul, Maurice Evans and Lilian Baylis in the Shakespeare renaissance in England, Dr. Newman especially emphasized in her discussion T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral", Archibald Mac Leish's "Fall of the City" and the dramas of Maxwell Anderson.

The contributed poems, read by Mrs. A. E. Dick included verse written by Prestonia Mann Martin, Richard Burton, Vivian Yeiser Laramore, Eugene R. Shippen, Lucy Lamont Gavit, Rose Mills Powers, Mrs. Arthur M. Harris and the writer of the winning poem, "Interpretations", reserved for the Allied Arts Prize contest held in April. Mrs. Dick also read a fine poem by Jessie B. Rittenhouse Scollard, "Mary Austin at Carmel". Announcement was Horses! Horses! Horses!

Winter Parkers are turning this week-end from teas and lectures to the world of sport, as presented by the Orlando Horse Show at Exposition Park. This is no mere local show, but a gathering of fine show horses from 14 states. There are classes for both local and visiting exhibitors, however, so the audience will not forget that the horse has his followers here in our vicinity. The show is for the benefit of the Rollins Riding Department.

EDITOR'S NOTE

A review of the Bach Festival will be published in next week's issue of Winter Park Topics.

ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW OF THE GARDEN CLUB

The thirteenth Annual Flower Show of the Winter Park Garden Club is to be held at the Hooker Memorial Building on New England Avenue next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 8 and 9. Tuesday, March 8, the hours are from 2:30 to 10:00 P. M. and on Wednesday, March 9 from 10:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. There is a small admission charge of twenty-five cents.

The public is cordially invited to enter the competitive exhibits. It is not necessary to have a garden of great size, but an unusual plant or single blossom of beauty is all that is necessary to qualify.

No person may make more than

FLORIDA'S BIRD LOVERS MEETING HERE TODAY

Bird lovers and conservationists of the state will meet at Rollins College today, Saturday, March 5, to attend the 38th annual meeting of the Florida Audubon Society.

The program for the day will consist of meetings, open to the public, in the morning and the afternoon in the Annie Russell Theatre, a luncheon meeting at the Whistling Kettle Tea Room, and an evening lecture in the theatre for which a small admission charge will be made. In addition to the program Saturday, a field trip to Central Florida areas to observe bird life under the guidance of J. Minter Westfall, of Orlando, former Audubon warden, is planned for Saturday.

The program will open with a meeting of the executive committee

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Pelham were hosts at a luncheon Tuesday at Mrs. Lists for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kraft and others connected with the Bach Festival. Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kraft, Mrs. Charles Sprague-Smith, Miss Hilda Sprague-Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Barbour and daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Gell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Harris, Mrs. William E. Casselberry and guest, Mrs. Edward P. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Alvord, Mac Morgan, Christopher O. Honaas and Herman Siewert.

Dr. Rosalie Slaughter Morton held another at-home last Sunday afternoon, exhibiting the interesting Bali carvings, statuettes and other examples of art from that far distant island of the Dutch East Indies, which she visited last summer. Miss Ruth Morse, Mrs. Samuel A. Weissenburger, Mrs. F. A. Lankford and Dr. Morton gave descriptive talks which were much enjoyed.

Mrs. F. A. Lankford of Lancaster, O., has returned to her home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. Butler Neide and family of Bonita Drive.

Mrs. Samuel Snelling of Nantucket, Mass., who has been spending a few days at the Whistling Kettle, returned north and is sailing for Europe shortly.

Mrs. H. R. Thompson and daughter Sally of Detroit, Mich., are visiting the former's father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Thompson in Maitland.

Fritz Lechner, baritone soloist with the Bach Festival Chorus is the guest of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Tuttle in Maitland during his stay.

President Holt was host at a tea Thursday for his distinguished house-guests, Sidney Homer, the composer, and his wife, Louise Homer, former Metropolitan Opera contralto. Mr. and Mrs. Homer came up from DelRay Beach to attend the Festival.

Mrs. George Endicott and Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, of New York arrived Wednesday for a fortnight's stay at the Alabama. Mrs. Endicott will spend the week-end with Mrs. Charles Sprague-Smith, before going to the hotel.

Mrs. Kenneth Gell came this week from Rochester, N. Y., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Barbour.

Mrs. Evelyn Hope Northrop, of Tunkhannock, Pa., is here for a six week's visit and is staying with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Missildine on Osceola Avenue.

Lillian Knowles, contralto soloist for the Bach Festival was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Shaw. Mac Morgan was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Barbour from Monday through the week.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Oliver, Daytona Beach sponsors for the Festival, attended the performances with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Allen. All were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Pelham as were Arthur Kraft, tenor soloist and Mrs. Kraft.

Mrs. Joseph Vandevanter has returned to Washington after being a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Thompson of Maitland since the first of January.

Mr. B. R. Coleman's host of friends were glad to see him down town the past week after his illness which confined him to his home on Alberta Drive for several weeks.

Miss Mabel Marston left Tuesday for other points in Florida after several week's stay at Mrs. List's. Miss Marston is from Yarmouth, Me., and was delighted with Winter Park, this being her first visit to Florida.

Prince and Princess Djoumkovsky who have been spending several weeks with the latter's father, Col. Edgar C. Leonard and Mrs. Leonard, have taken a cottage at DelRay Beach for a month. They will return to Winter Park before going to New York.

Sally Hammond pianist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hammond will be the soloist at the Sunday evening concert at the Alabama this Sunday evening with the string ensemble. Miss Hammond is a graduate pupil of Helen Moore at the Rollins Conservatory.

Channing Hare and Mountfort Coolidge held another of their delightful at-homes last Friday afternoon. Mr. Hare has just completed a portrait of Julie Trowbridge, wife of Prof. Buel Trowbridge, and talented member of the Annie Russell Company which was viewed for the first time by many of the guests and greatly admired by them all.

LECTURE ON ANTIQUES AT WOMAN'S CLUB

The Art Department of the Woman's Club is presenting to the public on Monday evening, March 14, at 8 o'clock, Mr. Ralph C. Erskine, formerly connected with the Danersk Company, designers of unique furniture in New York, in an illustrated lecture on "Pedigree Design in Antiques". Mr. Erskine has given courses in furniture design to the editorial staff of GOOD HOUSEKEEPING and has lectured extensively on the fundamentals of good design and craftsmanship.

Some of the lovely pieces of his workshop are in the house of Mrs. Philip T. Stillman, in this city, and he has collaborated with many famous architects in this country, in designing appropriate furniture for special settings.

The lecture will be open to the public, for a nominal admission fee. Mrs. Edgar C. Leonard and Miss Virginia Robie, of the Rollins Faculty, are assisting the Art department of the Club in the arrangements for this lecture.

There will be other special features of a non-competitive nature, such as a bird sanctuary; dining room table setting; educational exhibit and professional exhibits. One of the most unusual features will be a Flower and Vegetable Mart.

Ribbon awards will be given for the best exhibit in each section or class as follows: Blue for first, Red for second, and white for third.

Anyone wishing more information may call the chairman of any section.

A number of Winter Park people went over Tuesday evening to see the W. P. A. production at the Orlando Junior High School of "She Stoops to Conquer" which was directed by Dorothea Thomas Lynch, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James B. Thomas. Mrs. Lynch was formerly connected with the dramatics department of Rollins College and has successfully directed many plays in Winter Park. She is now State Director of the W. P. A. Theatre projects. Great credit is due Mrs. Lynch for a first-rate performance of Goldsmith's famous comedy. Her cast was made up of talented actors who have returned to active work on the stage through the Government support of their profession which certainly has as much right to consideration as the farmers or anyone else.

The death of Dr. B. A. Burks, prominent physician of Winter Park was a great shock to the people of this community where he had practiced his profession for a number of years. Dr. Burks had been the college physician for the past twelve years, and was given the Rollins Decoration of Honor a few years ago. During his College days Dr. Burks was known as one of the greatest football players in the country. He had been in failing health for several months but hope was held out for his recovery until last week. He passed away Thursday, February 24th at the Florida Sanitarium. Services were held at the Knowles Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon and were largely attended by his host of friends and associates. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to his family.

ARCHITECT

Post Office Building

Winter Park, Florida

New winter home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith,
on Aloma Avenue
Winter Park

The new Florida residence for Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith, completed just in time for them to occupy it this winter season, is located at Aloma and Cortland Avenues, Winter Park.

In the large arched windows and entrance, the delicate wood grill, and the picturesque tile roof, the architect, Harold Hair, sought to bring to mind both Spain and Mexico. The house is built in U-shape, and encloses a spacious flagstone terrace and patio. Through the small entry and a panelled door is the hall. To the right of the hall and separated from it by a beautiful wrought iron grill and gateway is the immense living room. The ceiling of this room is high and beamed, the floor is of tile. On the far side is a Mediterranean fireplace of cast stone. Adding to the impressive atmosphere are the antique wrought iron light fixtures and truss rods. To the west of the hall is the dining room with exposed stained roof timbers. Beyond the dining room is a roomy and inviting screen porch, and to the rear is the efficient and up-to-date kitchen. Here are convenient cabinets, beautiful tile work, a sufficiency of working surfaces and the best of electrical equipment. In back of the kitchen is the laundry room and the double garage.

The east wing of the house contains three large bedrooms. These are served by two bathrooms, finished in colored tile, with colored fixtures. The gallery connecting these rooms may be reached from the living room or from the rear terrace, through a grilled door. This wing is plentifully supplied with closets and built-in cabinets for blankets and household linens. This bedroom wing is elevated to provide greater advantages in circulation and to obtain more privacy.

As this is principally a winter home, the greatest attention was given to the heating system. The house, even on the coldest days, maintains an even warm temperature.

The addition of this home to our community is indeed a compliment to Central Florida, for it happened that last winter Mr. and Mrs. Smith were touring Florida and just chanced to pass through this section. They liked it so well that they decided to remain for the rest of the winter. They continued to like it so well that they sought workshop of R. J. M. Power who also supplied the ornamental pilasters at the main door and the colored flagging.

Mr. Adolphe de Bathe, noted miniature painter of London, England, is making a stay in Winter Park. On a previous visit he painted Mrs. Philip Stillman and Mrs. Stevenson Burke, of Cleveland, then at the Alabama Hotel. Mr. de Bathe has painted miniatures of royalty including Queen Victoria and King Edward VII.

staging, scenery and costumes will be stylized and suggestive of a Mediterranean background. The entire production will be under the direction of Professor d'Estournelles.

A large cast has been selected to play this delightful satire which was written in 421 B. C. by one of the greatest writers of comedy. Ernest Kilroe will appear in the leading role, supported by Rhea Marsh Smith, Siley Vario, U. T. Bradley, Charles Armstrong, Butler Neide, Henry Stryker, Donald Cram, Robert Van Beynum, Eugene Coleman, Catherine Bailey, Rebecca Coleman Holt, Buel Trowbridge, Nan Poeller, Lyman Greaves, Robert Hill, Carl Howland, Jr., Arthur Bifield, Warren Goldsmith, Charles Lancaster, Frederick Feuerstein and Miriam Feuerstein.

"Irene or The Peace" was presented in Athens in 421 B. C. a few days before the peace of Nicias was signed with the Lace-demonians. Aristophanes had already hit at the partisans of war in a previous play, "The Wasps", and was to make peace become the theme of his later comedies.

The box office at the theatre will be open each afternoon next week from Wednesday through Saturday from 4 to 6.

A second change in the Annie Russell Series has been announced by Miss Dorothy Lockhart. In place of "The Distaff Side" which was to have been produced as the final play in the series, Miss Lockhart has chosen A. A. Milne's "The Romantic Age" to close the season on the evenings of March 25 and 26.

"The Queen's Husband", put on last Friday evening at the Annie Russell Theatre by the American Repertory Theatre, was highly amusing and delighted the large audience which filled every available seat. One of the conspicuous merits of the company was their excellent elocution, their speeches at all times being easily audible in all parts of the house. The audience followed the situations with keen interest and applause and laughter marked their pleasure in the performance.

WINTER PARK CALLS FOR WELFARE WORK FUNDS

We do not have bread lines. We enjoy luxuries without embarrassment or feeling of guilt brought on by encountering hungry homeless people with no means of assistance.

Winter Park has a well organized welfare agency. Any reports or complaints may be left at the City Hall and will be investigated by a Social Worker. But!—in order to carry on the welfare work of this community we need funds. This is the time of the year when the Winter Park Welfare Association puts on its annual drive. We must have money to carry on the social work which we have so carefully built up into a well organized agency. Every citizen of Winter Park should contribute something toward his assurance that the work will go on.

The quota has been set by a survey of the actual needs in the community during the last year. We must raise $2500.00 in the next two weeks. Will you do your share?

Winter Park's musical people are proud of their Symphony Concerts and the Bach Festival, and they appreciate the beauty of tone of the

The Hannibal Square Public Library, Mertie Graham Grover Memorial, will be open Thursday, March 10, from 3 to 6 o'clock, for inspection by the many friends who have helped to make possible this attractive little library for the colored people. The building is located on West New England Avenue next to the graded school for the colored children. All white friends who wish to visit this attractive and useful little center will be welcomed by the librarian, Miss Callie Colston.

The recently formed Philatelists' Hobby Club at the Winter Park High School holds its meetings Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock at the Winter Park Chamber of Commerce building. All persons young or old interested in stamp collecting are cordially invited to attend these open meetings. Just bring your stamp albums or collections and join the interesting fun. It is free of charge. Mr. J. A. Winters is in charge of this group.

UNIVERSITY CLUB HAS AN EVENING OF FUN

Laying aside for the nonce their accustomed grave demeanor and discussions of the weighty problems that afflict the universe, the members of the University Club last Saturday evening went in for the lighter side of life—and it might be truthfully said,—“a good time was had by all”.

Although he has not yet been crowned Poet Laureate of the Club Dr. Eugene R. Shippen again demonstrated how successfully he woos the muse by reciting a few verses to celebrate the occasion. Here they are:—

O, we are the lions of Winter Park's zoo;
We're high-brows, it's plain to observe;
Our roster, it sure is a local "Who's Who",—
(A modesty prize we deserve.)

We've doctors, and teachers, and men of the law,
A writer of many a tale,
A bishop, a prex, and a big man of war,
And financiers not yet in jail.
(Note: Law and war rhyme in New England.)

Let no college rivalries part us tonight,
Let harmony 'mongst us prevail!
Let Eli's big bull-dog be nice and not bite,
Though Harvard ties knots in his tail.

But hold! there are females who sport cap and gown,
That 'varsity, blue-stocking bunch.
When we think of those sisters, our stock it goes down,
We've not such big shots, I've a hunch.

Yet, we are the people, as Job did remark,
And wisdom will die with us, sure.

For so long as we live in this burg, Winter Park,
Its name and its fame are secure.

Eugene R. Shippen

The author concluded saying "This beautiful poem in mimeographed form may be had for one cent a copy, the proceeds to go toward the support of Rollins College. 'The poor we have with us always'."

FLORIDA'S BIRD LOVERS

tee at 9 a. m. Robert J. Longstreet, Daytona Beach, will give an illustrated address on "The Society's Annual Trip to the Tortugas", and a business meeting to hear reports of officers will follow.

At the luncheon meeting at 12:30, Professor Alfred J. Hanna of Rollins will serve as toastmaster, and Oscar E. Baynard, Park Naturalist of Sebring, will discuss "The Wild Life of Florida's State Parks."

Studies in Bird Conservation will be the general subject of this afternoon's meeting in the theatre beginning at 2 o'clock. The program will include four addresses as follows: "The Everglades National Park Project" (illustrated) by E. F. Coe, Miami, director; "Girl Scout Bird Finders" by Miss Edna M. Oliver, Orlando; "The Atlantic Flyways from Labrador to Florida" (illustrated) by Harold Peters, U. S. Biological Survey; and "Bird Walks" by Mrs. A. M. Nourse, Winter Park.

At 4:15, the society members will follow their annual custom of going to "Hiawatha", the Dommerich Estate in Maitland, where the Florida Audubon Society was organized 38 years ago, and where Mrs. Reinhard Siedenburgh will be the hostess for afternoon tea. A meeting of "Tortugas" is planned for 6 p. m.

The evening meeting at 8:15 in the theatre will be featured by a musical program to be furnished by the Rollins Conservatory of Music and an illustrated address on "Conservation of Rare Florida Birds", by Alexander Sprunt, Charleston, S. C., supervisor of Southern Sanctuaries of the National Association of Audubon Societies.

For this part of the program, admission charges of 50c for adults and 25c for children are announced.

The field trip Sunday will start from the Annie Russell Theatre at 8 a. m.

MISS HARTLEY'S PAINTINGS TO BE SHOWN AT WOMAN'S CLUB

A public exhibition of fourteen paintings of religious subjects by Rachel V. Hartley, granddaughter of George Innes will be held in the Woman's Club of Winter Park for four days beginning March 13 under the auspices of Rollins College.

In the opinion of Mrs. Edith Tadd Little, local art patron, who will be in charge of the exhibition, it will be the most important art event in the community since the Samuel H. Kress exhibition of Italian Paintings held in the Woman's Club three years ago.

TO REVIVE COUNTRY CLUB AS A SOCIAL CENTER

A special meeting was held on Tuesday morning in the Winter Park Country Club for the purpose of reestablishing the clubhouse as the delightful social center that it was in former days. Mrs. P. T. Stillman was appointed Temporary Chairman.

It was proposed to have a hostess in charge to serve light refreshments when required to use the club for private teas, bridge parties, etc. and to resume the putting contests between the guests of the hotels and the cottagers. This motion was carried and a new social membership was established of $3.00 for the remainder of this year and $5.00 for the whole season next year. The club will be open on Thursday afternoon March 10th when the first putting contest will take place. Prizes will be awarded and light refreshments will be served to members and their friends by invitation of members only. Please leave word at the Caddy house how many will be present by Tuesday, March 8th. In case of rain the opening will be held Saturday, March 12th.

"Too Many Bosses"

"Too Many Bosses", a comedy in three acts by J. C. McMullen is to be given at the High School Auditorium Thursday night, St. Patrick's Day, March 17 at 8:15, under the joint auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association and the Senior Class, to raise money needed for both groups' activities and welfare work. A cast, made up of a number of Winter Park's younger set, including High School students and Rollins alumnae, as well as some well-known citizens of the town, has been in rehearsal for the past month and will give a well-staged and gay performance for the many friends who are eagerly awaiting the production. The play is under the direction of Miss Ruth Iserman. There will be patron reserved seats as well as adult and student priced tickets. Mrs. H. W. Caldwell is chairman of ticket committee. Save the date: Thursday, March 17. The names of all taking part will appear in next week's Winter Park Topics with just enough of the story of the play to make everyone wish to see the show.

The Woman's Union of the Congregational Church are giving a Benefit Tea in the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Brown, 940 Old England Avenue, on Friday, March 11, from 3:30 to 5:30. Come and meet new friends and old ones, all are invited.

A very successful sale and tea was held Tuesday by the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints Church. The sum of $325.00 was taken into the treasury and a delightful social time was enjoyed by the many people attending.

VIRGINIA INN

At the Saturday evening weekly Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lancaster, were host and hostess. Prizes for the ladies were won by Mrs. J. H. Chapman, Mrs. E. S. Dunn, and Mrs. Bellows. Prizes for the men: Mr. L. B. Jones, Mr. Samuel T. Carter, Jr., and Mr. Walter Lloyd. Refreshments were served after the party.

On Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the weekly Tea was served preceded by the Putting Tournament, prizes being given by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rathbun. In the ladies division, Mrs. Coughlin took first prize with a 41. Their was a tie for second place between Mrs. Hennessy, Mrs. Lancaster, and Miss Pitkin. On the play-off Mrs. Lancaster won. CREDIT GIVEN FOR PRIZE WINNING PATIO

Editor Winter Park Topics:

The Winter Garden Club has reason to feel gratified over the award of the blue ribbon for its exhibit, a Spanish patio, at the Central Florida Fair, but it would seem only right that credit for the exhibit be now properly apportioned.

The detailed plan, with much of the labor in carrying it out successfully, is to be credited to Miss Faith Jones, landscape architect, a member of the North End Circle of the Garden Club. For the plants we are indebted to Mrs. Fownes of the Maitland Circle, Mr. J. Gamble Rogers, Mr. Foster of the Tropical Arts, and Mr. W. H. Hayward, the florist. Mrs. George L. Noyes kindly loaned a Spanish madonna, tapestries and copper jars. Mrs. John J. Carty allowed us to use her choice tiled bench, associated with the beloved Annie Russell, which added so much to the artistic scheme. Thanks also are due to Mr. R. G. Coffman of Ye Olde Forge, for the iron gates, the striking central feature of the patio. The Winter Park Woman's Club contributed the pool and the wall-board. In the final arrangements Mrs. Alvin A. Marriott and Mrs. Robert R. L. Bigelow gave their cooperation. Nor are we forgetting Mr. Marriott's indispensable aid in painting the pool and the gates. My own part, such as it was, represented only the contribution of a responsible chairman.
